

Contents

From the Series Editors ..... ix

Choi Chatterjee

Introduction: The Global Impact of 1917 ..... 1

1917: Event and Myth

David MacLaren McDonald

Dreams of Dukhoboriia:
The Russian Revolution and Canada's Dukhobors ..... 25

Mary Neuburger

Hungry for Revolution:
Women, Food, and the Bulgarian Left, 1917–23 ..... 63

Erik van Ree

A Dream Come True:
Western Eyewitnesses of the October Revolution ..... 83

Robert Weinberg

The Bolshevik Revolution and Jews ..... 105

1917: Anticommunism Worldwide

Jürgen Buchenau

- A “Bourgeois Revolution” Contemplates a
 “Worker’s Revolution:” Mexico, 1917–34 ..... 125

A. James Gregor

- The Bolshevik Revolution and the Rise of Italian Fascism ..... 145

Sabine Hake

- Communists into Nazis: The Conversion of the German Worker ..... 167

Steven G. Marks

- “Workers of the World Fight and Unite for a White South Africa”: The Rand Revolt, the Red Scare, and the Roots of Apartheid ..... 195

Steven Sabol

- An Uncivil War: The Red Scare in the United States ..... 227

Transnational Identities: Living Revolution

Choi Chatterjee

- Lady in Red: Russian Revolutionary Languages
 in the American Imagination, 1917–39 ..... 263

Ali İğmen

- Between Empire and the Nation-State, between Humanism and Communism: Nâzım Hikmet’s Noble Struggle with Modernity ..... 287

---

Masha Kirasirova

- An Egyptian Communist Family Romance: Revolution and
Gender in the Transnational Life of Charlotte Rosenthal ..... 309

Lisa A. Kirschenbaum

- Michael Gruzenberg/Mikhail Borodin:
The Making of an International Communist ..... 337

Julia L. Mickenberg

- An American Flapper in Russia?
Work, Desire, and Dissent in 1920s Moscow ..... 367

Sandra Pujals

- Becoming Jaime Nevares: Imagination and Identity
Reinvention in the Communist International's Latin
American Network, 1919–43 ..... 393

Ludmila Stern

- A Woman with a Camera: Soviet Espionage in Interwar France ..... 417

Notes on Contributors ..... 451