

Contents

Rex A. Wade

Editor's Introduction ..... xi

Russia In Upheaval

PREFACE ..... 5

CHAPTER I

TWICE ACROSS SIBERIA ..... 7

The eight-hour day for sailors—Anarchists versus Socialists—The free-speech question—Freight congestion at Vladivostok—Bureaucratic badgering—The charm of eastern Siberia—Tales of the old régime—Official red tape—“No authority”—Repelling boarders—The kipyatok—Acres of firewood—Petrograd—The return five months later—Flooded with soldiers—The burning of the troop train—Atrocities—Siberia in winter—Growing tension—Civil war in Irkutsk—There's freedom now—Harbin—Arrival in a land of order and good cheer.

CHAPTER II

THE VOLGA AND THE CASPIAN TO TIFLIS ..... 19

Shining Nizhnii-Novgorod—Why goods are so scarce—Labor problems—Sormovo—The banishing of vodka—Tartary—Queer Finnish tribes—Resurgent heathenism—“Bulgari”—Fate of the German colonists—Saratov—Chaos in public offices—The Lower Volga—Kalmucks—Why Russia was belated—Riverside hamlets—Deforestation and erosion—Soil exhaustion—Dying fisheries—The Caspian—Oil fires at Baku—Signs of the East.

CHAPTER III

IMPRESSIONS FROM THE CAUCASUS ..... 28

The eye-feast of Tiflis—The crossroads of the Levant—Beauty of the Georgians—“Down with whiskers”—The Cherkeska—An excursion into the past—Why “mountaineers are always freemen”—Eagle-faced hill-men—Primitive ways—The thralldom of the Georgian Church—The fête at Mtzchet—Khevsurs and Crusaders—Feasting and merry-making—Picturesque types—The Valley of the Alasan—Georgian progressiveness.

CHAPTER IV

THE FILM OF RUSSIAN CENTRAL ASIA ..... 36

Turkomans of the oasis—Queer costumes—In a Shiite mosque—Bokhara, the City of Steady Habits—Bazaar life—Impermanency of mud cities—Samarkand—Ferghana—A cotton kingdom—Walled farmsteads—Mohammedism and commercial farming.

CHAPTER V

THE RUG MARKET AT MERV ..... 41

The fair at Merv—A freshet of rugs—“Dusty foot”—Old rugs and new—“Striking a bargain”—Origin of the rug-weaving art—How the carpets are made—Comparative fineness—The invasion of coal-tar dyes—Exploitation of the women—Deterioration of the Turkoman breed owing to the commercialization of rug-making.

CHAPTER VI

THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE ..... 47

Russian responsiveness—Gift of intuition—Gregariousness—Humaneness—Why the masses will do brutal things—Mental contagion—Meriatchenja—Aversion to the Cossack—Moujik hard-headedness—A winter-made people—“Black hundreds”—Rarity of eyeglasses—Illiteracy and ignorance—Passion for listening to speeches—Why no patriotism—Russian tolerance—Want of standards—Goodness of Slavic nature—When will the Russians arrive?—How the Germans look upon them—Their Kultur theory—Traits of the educated Russians—Why Russians and Americans should be good friends.

CHAPTER VII

SOIL HUNGER AND THE LAND QUESTION .....	59
Siberian pioneering—Russian agriculture—Communal feuds—Folly of strip tillage—Redistributing the common land—Rural villages—How a great estate is managed—Nobles lose their land to peasants—Land hunger—Soil robbing—Doomed estates—Shall the land owners be compensated?—Peasants helping themselves—Land committees—individual ownership of land necessary for the development of the moujiks.

CHAPTER VIII

THE ROOTS OF THE REVOLUTION .....	68
Tsar glorification—When did Autocracy become a millstone about the neck of the Russian people?—The duel between the Terrorists and the Government—“Propaganda by deed”—The character of Nicholas II—Growing diabolism of his Government—Persecution of the Children of Light by the Sons of Darkness—The concessions of 1905—The Duma farce—Mismanagement of the war—Overthrow of Stürmer—The Rasputin affair—The provocative Protopopov—Hunger riots—The events of the March Revolution.

CHAPTER IX

RETURNING REVOLUTIONISTS .....	79
Revolutionists, sham and real—Data concerning a party of homing refugees—Story of B—Story of a woman revolutionist—The “life of the hunted”—Loyalty to one another—The revolutionists’ opinion of America—Confidence in the masses—Why the revolutionists are all socialists—Prevalence of Marxism among Russian University students—How persecution interrupted the intellectual development of the radicals—The repatriated revolutionists responsible for the triumph of Bolshevism.

CHAPTER X

REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENTS AND PARTIES .....	89
Causes of the political incompetency of the bourgeoisie—The intelligentsia as political leaders—Rise of the Narodniki—Their idealization of the obshchina—The coming in of Marxism—Social Revolutionists, Social Democrats and Kadets—What the different parties expected from the Revolution—Mensheviks and Bolsheviks—Why the Soviets rose against the Kerensky Government—Land policy of the Bolsheviks—My interview with Trotsky—The “control” of the factories—Where the capital will come from—How productivity will be kept up—Can the leaders control the proletariat?

CHAPTER XI

CASTE AND DEMOCRACY ..... 99

Excessive concentration of wealth in Russia—Class contrasts—The system and its purpose—Origin of the great estates—The rise of serfdom—A century and a half of slavery—Emancipation a “cheat”—Weakness of caste feeling among Russians—Fraternal manners—Influence of the “people-worshipping” intelligentsia—The revolution quickens the self-assertiveness of the Masses—Why the bourgeoisie put up no resistance—A troop train in Kakhétia—The loss of military discipline—The heritage from the Old Régime—Errors of the Revolutionists—Bolshevist responsibility for the demoralization of the army.

CHAPTER XII

RUSSIAN WOMEN AND THEIR OUTLOOK ..... 110

The moral superiority of women—Russian women in new jobs—Attitude toward their work—Stronger than men under temptation—Their excellence of character—Want of chivalry in Russian men—Is male chivalry good for women?—Independent spirit of Russian young women—Admission of women to the professions—Access to the higher schools—Russian high school girls—Ideals of Russian women—The “women’s battalion”—Causes of the emancipation of women in Russia—Girls’ schools, “advanced” thought, the role of the girl revolutionists—Prospects of the peasant women.

CHAPTER XIII

LABOR AND CAPITAL ..... 122

A feudal-minded employer—How the old régime held down labor—Exploiting labor with a free hand—The effects of the Revolution on the working people—The newborn sense of self-respect—Suppression of tips and of petty graft—Helplessness of employers—Wage demands—The eight-hour day—The slump in productivity—The employer loses the power to “hire and fire”—The dismissal wage—Grotesque demands—"Drunk with liberty"—Syndicalist excesses—The Soviet organization—Why the bourgeoisie lay down.

CHAPTER XIV

RELIGION, THE CHURCH, AND THE SECTS .....	135
Abundance of religious observances—The Orthodox priests—Russian Church interiors—The social inertness of the Church—Lack of moral leadership—Is Orthodoxy a dead religion?—Christian traits of the people—Almsgiving—Monasticism—Religious emotion—The aim of the Church—Orthodoxy as the Christianity of a thousand years ago—Symbolism—Bondage of Church to State—Pobedonostsev—The Sobor—Can the Church survive?—The moral superiority of the Sectarians.

CHAPTER XV

THE UNITED STATES OF RUSSIA .....	142
A Kommissar in Turkestan—The Empire as champion of order and progress—Bad side of Russian imperialism—Setting race on race—Assertion of balked desires after the collapse of the old régime—Demands of the non-Russian nationalities—Finland—Ukraine—The Cossack territories—Georgia—Tartar aspirations—Siberia—Turkestan—A federal union for Russia—Functions of a central government—Commerce, education, and religion—Prospects of union.

CHAPTER XVI

PROSPECTS AND LESSONS .....	154
The workers' republic—Signs of stability—Getting under way—Restoring order—Are the Bolsheviks anarchists?—Are Lenin and Trotsky German agents?—Will the peasants accept proletarian leadership?—Will the higher services be supported?—The upward path the peasants should follow—The workers' republic not necessarily socialistic—Costliness of social revolution—Influence of the Russian example upon labor everywhere—Is our country immune to anti-capitalist agitation?—What we must do to be safe.

INDEX .....	164
-------------	-----