

Contents

David W. McFadden

Editor's Introduction	ix
-----------------------------	----

The Russian Pendulum

Preface	3
---------------	---

Book I European Russia

I. Lenin	7
II. Workingmen—Soldiers—Poorer Peasants	12
III. War and the Old Regime	19
IV. Revolution and the Provisional Government	23
V. Zemstvo, Duma, Co-operatives	27
VI. The Soviets	32
VII. The Political Parties	39

VIII. "Land"	44
IX. "Peace"	50
X. Kerensky	55
XI. The Bolshevist Campaign	60
XII. The Question of Majority Support	63
XIII. The Bolsheviks at Work	67
XIV. "German Gold"	73
XV. Allied Diplomacy in Russia	82
XVI. Lenin's Foreign Policy	92
XVII. The Pendulum of the Revolution	98

Book II
Siberia

XVIII. The Siberian Railroads	101
XIX. The Czecho-Slovaks and the Allies	105
XX. The First Siberian Government	111
XXI. The Socialist Revolutionaries and the Directorate	114
XXII. The Cossack Conspiracy	117
XXIII. Kolchak	120
XXIV. Civil War	122
XXV. Kolchak's Regime	126

XXVI. Efforts to Help Russia	130
XXVII. Psychological Difficulties	135
XXVIII. Intervention	142

Book III
What's to Be Done?

XXIX. Some Elements of the Problem	146
XXX. "Hands Off" or "Stand By"	162
XXXI. Educational Cooperation	170
Index	173